AN ADDRESS.

The State Temperance Association has issued the following address to the voters of Kansas. Prohibitionists are supporting the Republican State ticket everywhere in Kansas. We give the address in full:

To the voters of Kansas: At the State convention recently held in Topeka, the Republican party took strong ground in favor of the enforcement of the constitutional amendment prohibiting the manufacture and sale of intoxicating Equor, and denounced in most emphatic terms the exercise of the pardoning power by Governor Glick in favor of the saloen keepers of Kansas. The resolutions on these points were as who is accused of killing him would be

"RESOLVED, That prohibition has by a vote of the people, without distinction of party, been adopted as the organic law of this State. HESOLVED, That we favor a faithful and honest carforcement of the constitutional amendment, that the full effects of prohibition may be realized, that the declared will of the people may be respected and the majesty of the law may be vindicated.

specied and the majesty of the law may be vitalicated.

RESOLVED, That as under the constitution and laws of the State, all errors and irregularities of the inferior courts may be corrected by proper proceedings in the supremercourt, a tribanal now composed of members of both of the great political parties of the State, the recent action of Gov. Glick in exercising the partioning power to relieve guilty persons from the just penaltics of law breaking solely upon the grounds of alleged wrong and irregularities existing at the trials, when they have not sought a review of their cases in the supreme court, is an unwarranted usurpation by the chief executive of the judicial power of the State, and it is an attempt to destroy the confidence of the people in the courts, thereby exciting lawlessness and disobodience to public authority; and such conduct on the part of the governor, under releann outh to obey the constitution and enforce the law, merits and deserves the commentation of

A proposition to rescind the prohibitory amendment was not in terms presented to the convention, but the opposition to the amendment offered a resolution to amend the report of the committee on resolutions as follows: "Resolved, that we are in favor of a Constitutional Convention." Rehind this resolution was the proposition to repeal the amendment, and the opposition to prohibition made their fight in the convention at this point. The only test vote on the subject of prohibition was taken on this resolution. The votes were as follows: For constitutional convention, 62: ment of the policy of probibition, remaining as it is in the constitution; and this action of the convention in connection with the resolutions already quoted presents a platform upon which every prohibition republican can consistently stand this year. We can see no need of a third party in the State of Kansas, Every step taken in favor of a third party is a direct step toward the re-election rge W. Glick as Governor of Kansas, and any movement looking in that diretion ought to be nanced by every lover of peace and good order in this State. The Kansas State Temperance on will stand upon this declaration of principles as embodied in these resolutions and the vote taken, and will yield a hearty support to the ticket nominated at the convention. But party platforms and conventions cannot settle this question.

We must remember that the decisive action will be taken by the Legislature when it meets; and the most important duty before us is to nominate In the various districts, and elect members of the legislature opposed to re-submission, and upon rely for legislation to srengthen our prohibitory liquor law.

We must also rely upon the officers of the law for its enforcement. The election of County At torneys in the various counties is a most important duty. These matters are decided at the primaries, and if the temperance people of Kansas desire to make substantial advancement, this year in the work of strengthening our law and enforcing the amendment, they must attend the primaries, and see that men are selected for the Senate and House of Representatives who are against re-submission in any form, and in favor of strengthening the law: also that men are selected for county attorneys, who, when they swear to support the consitution of Kansas, and faithfully and honestly discharge their duties, will do so.

the greatest activity on our part, and to neglect these duties now, is to desert our cause at the most important crisis in its history. Delegates chosen to the district and county convention where these officers are nominated, should be men who are in sympathy with the struckle we are making, and who will vote for candidates both able and willing to enforce the constitutional amendment by enacting and enforcing all laws necessary to that result. We have been making steady and rapid progress toward the destruction of the dram shop system under the present law, but experience has shown us that it can be remedied by modification and amendment. If the Legislature will do its duty in this respect this winter, we will soon be able to utterly destroy this ons system in this State. Whether this will be done or not depends upon the work done by the people at the primaries. Our enemies are at

If the "pernicious policy of prohibition" had been in force in Dodge City, those two colored men would not have been killed in the dance hall on the south side. "Tid Bit" May would not now be filling a pauper's grave. Keziah Morris would not have been slaughtered, and her slayer would not be in the penitentiary. Dublin Jack would not have thrown himself in front of the engine. That man would not have been frozen to death at Ridgway last winter. Bing Choate would not have been murdered, and the man who murdered him a fugitive and a vagabond upon the face of the earth. Mrs. Bensinger would be living and caring for her family instead of having died in a bagnio. Nixon would be living and caring for his family, and the man a useful member of society, and the instead of here showing upon every lineament of his face the fact that for years he has been a debauchee and the associate of bawds.

It is believed by medical authorities that cholera will not come here this year, and perhaps not in an epedemic form at any time. United States Consuls have been instructed by the State Department to notify it of the County tax departure of people or the shipment of Bridge " goods from the infected districts. The most essential thing is to keep the cities clean, so that it can get no foothold. The greatest danger lies, not in the importation of the germs of cholera, but in establishing and maintaining such unsanitary conditions as will make it difficult to stamp it out. It was brought from Norway in 1873 by some emigrants, and made its first appearance in Minnesota, which was their destination. The germs came in their baggage, and every person who was present when that baggage was opened died. If the baggage had been opened at New York as they passed through that city there might have been a terrible epidemic, but in the country, where there was plenty of fresh air and natural conditions of cleanliness, it was not so bad. The present epidemic is believed to be the same that swept over Egypt last summer and carried off so many people there. It has crept along the Mediterraneau until it found the conditions favorably in Toulon and broke out so fiercely there. Toulon and Marseilles are in a very bad sanitary condition, such as is required for the rapid propagation of any plague.

> Everything seems, at present, to favor a very fine display at our State Fair at Topeka, September 8th-13th. The managers have determined, in view of the immense interest the State has in stock matters, to make it a display of fine stock which, thus far, has never had an equal in the West. There are twice as many applications for space in the classes of horses, cattle, sheep and hogs as there were at the same time last year, and every means will be adopted for a display to the general public, of the fine animals which will come from every part of the country. In addition to this the Santa Fe Road has made the rate for visitors to the Fair One Cent per mile, and other lines will doubtless do the same. Maj. Morrill's position was that the Indians are the the wards of the government; that it is currances around and at home are the duty of the government to restrain and control them, and that the government must pay the penalty of their misdeeds. Thus he made good a new departure in Congressional action and established a principle never before recognized by the government. The bill went to the Senate and Senator Ingalls completed the work, although the Senate Committee reported unanimously against the bills. But Ingalls does best when most opposed. The pension for soldiers who have lost both legs is fifty dollars a month, and these three Kansas Militia men are now receiving six hundred dollars a year, each. Kansas never "gets left."
